bringing life to the dreams

ST PETER SCHOOL BARIKHAJURI

October - November 2023

Parents and Motivation

Role models don't always have to be a famous personality.
It can be anyone who encourages us to believe in ourselves.
My parents fill my life with sweetness.

The Tree and It's Hope

Always be hopeful and persistent in whatever you do.
Never lose your hope because the best moment is yet to come.

Story of A Girl

Failures don't mean you can't succeed in life.
On the other hand,
the fact is that success is definitely yours
if you have the determination, faithfulness and perseverance to keep going.

Principal's Message

"I have no special talents. I am only passionately curious."

— Albert Einstein

The discussions about learning and what constitutes “good learning” is almost always couched in the context of a classroom. Today’s students have more access to information and resources beyond the classroom than any prior generation. They can jump online and watch a video tutorial to learn how to do something that interests them. Is this learning less valuable than the learning that happens in a classroom? We cannot expect to gain all the knowledge related to a particular field simply by reading a few books or passing examinations. The actual learning commences after we step out into the real world and try to gain different experiences. Learning is lifelong. It is a process of gaining knowledge, skills, and experiences throughout your entire life. It is an ongoing process that never stops.

Lifelong learning can occur in both formal and informal settings, including schools, colleges, workplaces, and everyday life. It involves seeking new information, updating and expanding existing knowledge, and developing new skills and abilities. Learning doesn’t just start in school or in any formal education setting. It is what everyone starts doing immediately after birth. Learning how to take the first step, how to run, how to talk, and lots more. All these things we learn from the childhood through observation, passion and excitement. Students should be aware of what is happening around them. They should develop their observational skills because we learn a lot from observation alone. For example, observing the movement of a vehicle may excite a child to learn more about the workings of engines. This excitement creates

A great piece of advice

Awoman was a very successful. She was a source of inspiration. When she was taking her last breath, all the family members were around her. One of the family members said, "Give us some inspiration from your life". The dying woman said, "I will inspire you but for that I need more time. Take all my wealth and buy some more time for me". The person said, "It is not possible". Then the woman said, "So understand the value of time. Time cannot be bought. Don't waste time".

Reality

How the people are selfish? Not having a sense of humility? Many people have good and humble life. Life has two phase: happiness and sadness. The hands of the Heavenly Father is on every individual. World is different. It is not what we see or what we see. Many people today are educated but not really educated. It means that they have degree, but not understanding. They have big heads but not big hearts.

Bright Future

Hey you!!

You still have a future

Stop thinking inappropriately

If you want happiness, fulfilment

Success and inner peace,

Start thinking you have

The power to achieve those.

Hey you!!

Focus on the bright side

Of life and expect positive result,

Your future is bright...

Look beyond the present circumstances,

Imagine a brighter future.

Hey you!!

Even if they tried to implicate you

Because of what you have achieved

And because of your luminous future,

Wipe it off and imagine yourself in the future,

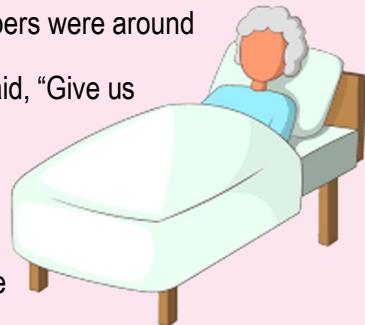

Cheer up and say, I have an illuminated future ahead.

Politeness

Politeness means we behave the way we expect others to behave. Politeness suggests that we do not hurt anyone in public. Politeness is being gentle and loving and shows respect to others. For example, if someone asks you way show him the way with respect, and that is politeness. If you do not know something admit it humbly, that is politeness. A polite person always respects others. People always respect a polite person. So give respect, you will get respect.

Discipline

Discipline is the key to success. It helps to improve our manners, habits and builds character. Discipline teaches us to follow the rules. It improves our personality. For example, in the army, there is strict discipline. Self-discipline is important for an individual to be successful in life. Parents family, School, Colleges etc. help us develop a strong sense of discipline. It increases focus on the goals. So be a disciplined person.

Brother Birds

Once upon a time, there lived two brother birds on a big neem tree. One was Dolly and the name of the other bird was Molly. Dolly was brave and courageous and he learnt to fly quickly. But Molly never tried to fly because of the fear that he would fall down. Dolly decided that he would make Molly fly at any cost. One day Dolly was flying and he suddenly got stuck in a hunter's trap near his nest. Molly was there alone in the nest. Molly saw Dolly trapped in the net. The hunters came to take Dolly. In that situation only Molly could have saved Dolly's life. But Molly was afraid to fly. However suddenly Molly's will power raised very high to save his brother. Molly tried to fly in order to save his brother's life. Finally he could fly high and could help Dolly to come out of the trap. He gave new life to his brother.

Moral: Situation can change a person.

The Nature

A place where the green forests are,
A place where cattle graze,
And where the wild animals live,
Is our nature, beautiful to see.
The surrounding we see around us,
The crop we cultivate in the fields,
And where the human beings live,
Is our nature, beautiful to see.
Now, the nature is disturbed by the humans,
We are too selfish and destroying the nature,
A place where every living creature live,
A place where beautiful waterfalls are,
And where the life is ,
Is our nature, good to live.
